

A drooping young man, with rolling eyes and acid-burned lips, supported by the young women, met Patrolman Le-

Mary. The youth, she said, was William Wittkovsky of No. 209 Avenue C.

Wittkovsky was carried home by La-bell and Dr. Phillips came from Helms with a stomach pump.

When the youth opened his eyes he saw Julia Wallace.

"Do you forgive me for what I have done?" he inquired.

Julia nodded.

As Wittkovsky was being taken to the hospital, in the ambulance, a prisoner, he tugged at the doctor's white coat.

"Do you know, Don," he declared, "I'm glad I didn't cash in? I want to live now."

"Julia!" asked the surgeon.

The prisoner-patient smiled and felt asleep.

Ten members of a wedding party were hurled to the street early to-day when a big touring car in which they were riding through Union avenue, Brooklyn, hit an "L" pillar trying to avoid collision with a bakery wagon at Broadway.

Miss Annie Schaeffer of No. 791 Hart street and Benjamin Weisbart of No. 1065 De Kalb avenue were cut about the

Exquisite Fur Coats, Scarfs, Muffs & Fur Sets

Great Holiday Displays—Big Values for Women, Misses and Children

The savings are most marked of course, but the garments themselves are of such a character that not only do they effect an economy, but a gift of one of these articles of fur will hold you in grateful remembrance to the recipient for very much longer than a single season. Now look at the prices:

Women's and Misses' $45 Russian $27.50 Ponyskin Fur Coats at

Made of selected skins; 52 inches long; richly marked and moired. Designed with deep collar; some lined with brocade, others with Skinner's satin; finished with a plain black satin border around bottom of coat, termed a "kicker," to prevent lining from soiling.
